Proclamation—Fraud on Both Republicans make a

NEW YORK, October 28.—Mayor Wiltz has issued a proclamation ordering the closing of all saloons on election day, and calling upon the police to use every effort to preserve the peace. It is estimated that 5,000 and 6,000 fraudulent registrations in the city are acknowledged to exist, but the authorities have not succeeded in getting them from the lists. The fraudulent registrations are Democratic negroes, many of whom have come from five to ten registration districts. The Republicans claim that they have fully registered whites as necessary to overcome this fraud, and it is evident that if the laws are enforced, the vote will be filled with political strangers now at large. The Central Committee of the regularly colored Republicans issued an address to-day stating that the colored people constitute the main strength of the Republican voters of the State, and demanding an equal distribution of public patronage, and that the colored man shall be consulted in questions involving the interests which affect him, and the welfare of the whole people as much as the whites. They do not propose to be blindly led as they have been in the past.

Letter Carpenter.

WASHINGTON, October 28.—It was reported here yesterday by Senator Morton that Mrs. H. Carpenter was lying at the point of death at Kenosha. The statement is made that on Monday night after speaking in that town, Carpenter was seriously ill from the effects of a severe cold. It was feared but rapidly grew worse, and Mrs. Carpenter was thought his illness would terminate fatally. Mrs. Carpenter and his law partner, Mr. Culver, were sent for by friends and hastened to his bedside. He was brought to his home in this city on Monday night. It is probable he will recover, but it is not likely that he will be able to appear again before the election.

Fire and the Wrath to Come.

CHICAGO, October 28.—The following dispatch was received at police headquarters to-day:

FORT SILL, Indian Territory, October 28.—The Indian scouts this evening, that General Mackenzie, with his column, has captured, on the Mucconee warriors and 2,000 ponies. Mackenzie is in the worst character, and is accompanied by Captain Carpenter with his company. I met Captain Carpenter with his company in hot pursuit of a large party of Indians, and got to Fort Sill to surrender before dark. He had then been in pursuit of the party for two days. The party is thought to be Lone Wolf's band.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 29.—The new mint will be turned over to Gen. Lagrange on the 5th of November.

The steamer Cyphercress from Australia, arrived this morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—Among the passengers from Honolulu by the steamer Cyphercress, to-day, was Elisha H. Allen, who is accredited special envoy by the King of Hawaii, to visit Washington, for the purpose of negotiating a reciprocity treaty with the United States. A. P. Carter is associated with him in the mission. The King will probably arrive here in the Benicia about the last of November.

The Grangers have concluded to finish the cargo of the ship Twilight, which was chartered a few weeks ago by their agents at 60s, one of the lowest charters made this season on their account. One of the ships, under charter to the suspended firm of E. E. Morgan's Sons, has taken a guano charter instead. Another will load with wheat for account of other parties.

The recent fire in the Black Diamond coal mine will not interfere with the supply of coal from them. The fire was in the works of the new shaft, just opened for work.

Fire Marshal John Durkee, while attempting to get off one of the City street cable cars, to-night, made a misstep, fell and broke his right leg.

Bridget Anderson was taken suddenly ill at a house on DeBoone street this afternoon. A physician recommended that she be taken to the hospital, and while on her way thither suddenly died.

The California Minstrels (amateurs) gave a very fine performance to a good audience at Platt's Hall to-night.

Weather clear and pleasant.

Interior California.

SANTA ROSA, October 29.—This morning at 5 A. M., Wm. Lee, engineer in the Forestville Chair Factory, shot and killed his wife instantly. His eldest son was at the stable attending to some horses when he heard the pistol shot. He went to the house immediately and the children came running out and informed him that their father had killed their mother. The murderer escaped, and has not been heard from yet. Family trouble seemed to be the cause of it.

NEVADA.

RENO, Nov. 29.—Morris May, Deputy Sheriff of Franktown, while out gunning near that place to-day, met with a very painful accident. He was sitting on a fence, apparently resting, and while attempting to get off the fence his gun was discharged, the contents tearing the palm of his hand out and making a very ugly wound.

Oswold, who was reported dead in yesterday's dispatch, is still alive, but physicians think his recovery very doubtful.

CARSON, October 29.—Another enthusiastic Republican rally and mass meeting is being held here to-night. Bonfires and fireworks are blazing, bands playing and salutes being fired. The meeting is addressed by J. C. Hazlett, of Lyon county, candidate for Governor; Mr. Woodburn, of Storey county, candidate for Congress, and several other prominent members of the Republican party. The big meeting is announced for Monday night.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, Sept. 29.—Brigham Young went South to-day, and expects to spend the winter at St. George.

The grading of the first 20 miles of the Utah Western Railroad is nearly finished. The iron for it is now on the way here. The track laying will commence immediately on its arrival.

THE TESTIMONIAL TEA-SET.—When Acting Secretary Cowan requested Commissioner Leggett to furnish him a list of the names of clerks who had contributed to his presentation set of silver, he did not anticipate that the fact would become public, nor was it his purpose to take any action in the matter except to consider it as a joke on the retiring Patent Commissioner. What was intended as a joke may now turn out to be a serious affair. The matter will be allowed to rest until Secretary Delano returns, when he will be called upon to take final action. Although the law prohibits the soliciting of contributions, those who subscribed assert their ignorance of such a statute.

A lady clerk employed in the Patent Office, in an interview with Assistant Secretary Cowan to-day, assumed the entire responsibility of gathering subscriptions from clerk and others employed in that office to purchase a tea set for presentation to the retiring Commissioner Leggett. She was informed her admission could concern only herself and not exempt the other contributors. The law requires the summary discharge of those engaged in the Government service who contribute for such purposes. Definite action will not be taken until the return of Secretary Delano, who is daily expected. There is no way of evading the law, except by discharging the contributors and then reappointing them.—Wash. special, Oct. 16.

The only genuine music inspired by the advent of Alexandrowna's boy will probably come from the person most immediately concerned—the boy, of course.—Chicago Tribune.

THE DEMAND ON SHERMAN TO RESIGN.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS.

Sherman is in the way of the plans of those people at Washington, because, you see, he is Commander of the Army. But he is not fool enough to resign.

Grant's Washington organ demands that Sherman shall resign his post as Commander of the Army. Does this mean that they have given up the third term since the Western elections, and would like to have Sherman's place for Grant?

Certainly the American people builded better than they knew when they made Grant President, and by thus removing him from the command of the army gave that post to a man who is not in the hands of rogues and intriguers, as clay in the hands of the potter.

THE WATCH ON THE NILE.—A Cairo correspondent writes, under date of September 27.—"A visit to the Nile at the present moment well repays the trouble and inconvenience of a few hours' journeying through the dust and heat, and during the last ten days excursions to Kafr-Zeiat, Damietta, and other places have been very frequent. Thousands of Fellaheen (peasants) are constantly employed in watching the river, heaping up earth and stones on the embankments, and strengthening the weak points, as they appear, against an overflow and inundation. At night the whole length of the river below Cairo is illuminated by innumerable watch-fires that throw an uncertain light on the swarthy, half-naked multitudes that line its banks, while the cries of the soldiery, as they urge the people on to renewed labor—like the taskmasters of the ancient times—mingled with the sound of the rushing waters, complete a spectacle that once seen can never be forgotten, and the knowledge that the fate of thousands depends on the issue of the struggle going on adds a solemnity to a scene that must be witnessed to be appreciated.

NO, THANK YOU!—As we now understand the Evening Post, it objects to our recommending Governor Dix to express his opinion on the third-term question, because such a declaration would not go far enough. The repudiation of the third-term project, it thinks, should come from the President, and it says that our advice "had better be bestowed upon President Grant." But perhaps the Post knows that in this world advice, even good advice, is not always taken. The President is a very shrewd man, and when he sees what is going on, he may, perhaps, be tempted to put an end to gossip which at first was simply malicious and absurd, but which becomes mischievous the moment people attach any importance to it. But as for our venturing to offer advice on the subject, we must respectfully decline. Let the Post read up the back numbers of the official organ at Washington and it will see why.—N. Y. Times, Oct. 18.

MOULTON'S STATEMENT PROHIBITED IN LONDON.—NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A letter to the Herald, dated London, Sept. 28th, says: On the arrival at Queenstown of the American steamer with papers containing Moulton's statement, one or two London correspondents telegraphed it to their papers. Subsequently the telegraph authorities stopped the transmission of the statement as containing objectionable matter, and notified the London papers of the improper character of the press placed on the wire by the correspondent. The Postoffice authorities also prohibited its publication. Before the inhibition was promulgated, however, several journals had received the report, a portion of which was published in the Times, the Standard and the Daily News.

A MODEL ATTACK ON SCHURZ.—Mr. Schurz can in some measure console himself, when he reflects that if he doesn't succeed in getting elected by means of the Republican party in Missouri, he will at least have given its integrity a shock, by recalling the example of the philosopher who had attempted to induce a lady, chaste as the curdled snow that hangs on Diana's temple, to commit with him an imminent deadly breach of a commandment which need not further be particularized. "Did you succeed?" asked a friend. "Well, no," answered the philosopher; "but I guess I lowered her moral tone somewhat."—St. Louis Globe.

THE OPPOSITION TO CARPENTER.—Janesville, Wis., October 19.—Considerable dissatisfaction is manifesting itself in the Republican ranks in this county over the nomination of H. N. Davis, of Beloit, for Senator, he being a pledged Carpenter man, and it is probable that an anti-Carpenter man will be nominated by the dissatisfied Republicans, and be supported by the Reformers. The Hon. Wm. A. Lawrence, of Janesville, is prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination. Lawrence is one of the most popular men in Rock county, and has filled the office before.

A BLOODLESS SURGICAL OPERATION.—Dr. John J. Caldwell, of this city, started last night for Harrisburg, Pa., to consult with Dr. Thos. J. Dunott, surgeon in charge of Harrisburg Hospital, and to remove a large tumor from the side of a lady by the galvanic caustic process, which is said to be entirely bloodless and painless. This process is the severing of the tumor by a wire or knife-blade heated to about 1,500° by the use of large galvanic plates and strong acids. It has been successful in many cases abroad, but has not been much used in this country.—Baltimore American.

SHERMAN FOR PRESIDENT.—The city papers are commenting on an article which lately appeared in the Washington Chronicle, reviewing Gen. Sherman's record, both civil and military, and supposed to have been written for the purpose of putting him forward as a candidate for the next presidency. The article attracted much attention. The National Republican, to-day, says that it was written by Hon. Henry S. Foote.—Washington Special.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

Charles P. Thompson (Democrat), of Gloucester, is again this year, as in 1872, Ben Butler's opponent.

NEW YORK, October 24.—Registration here closed to-night. The total, with the fifteenth election district omitted, is 146,075.

BOSTON, October 24.—Ben Butler has taken the stump and speaks in the townships of his district next week. Thompson, the opposition candidate, follows him.

Clement S. Hill, of Lebanon, Ky., a Whig member of Congress, 1853-'55, is an independent candidate against J. Proctor Knott. The Republicans support him.

As a campaign war cry the Southern outrage business has proved a very bad failure. The people refuse to make fools of themselves by getting excited over it. Can't the Administration organs start something else?

In the Tenth Massachusetts District the Democrats made no nomination for Congress and will support Prof. Julius H. Seelye, of Amherst (Independent), against Charles A. Stevens, of Ware, the regular Republican nominee.

One of the speakers at the Democratic mass meeting in Boston, Saturday evening, Mr. Charles Levi Woodbury, made the startling announcement that there was in the State a "party of stay-at-home Republicans, who are constantly sitting on the shirt-tail of progress and shouting 'whoa.'" Rather unlightified position, that.

WHEELING, West Va., October 17.—The Republicans concede the election of Wilson, Democrat, to Congress in this district by 100 majority. This result makes the West Virginia delegation in the next Congress stand three Democrats, instead of one Republican, one Democrat and one Independent, as in the present Congress.

Who would have thought it! The same William A. Simmons, whom the Massachusetts Republican State Convention of 1873 asked the President to "remove forthwith," and whom a party of most respectable Boston Republicans, headed by Mr. John M. Forbes, went to Washington to protest against, now has his name first on the list of the new Republican Executive Committee of Massachusetts.

Gov. C. K. Davis, of Minnesota, is giving Senator Ramsey a hard fight for the United States Senatorship. Mr. Ramsey gained a slight advantage the other day by carrying in his favor the primaries in Ramsey county, in which the city of St. Paul is situated. The Republicans of Freeborn county have instructed their Senator and Representative to vote for Davis, and he has similar support in many other parts of the State.

Here is a man who evidently has a just appreciation of the value of the promises made by Congressional aspirants. His name is Magilder, and he lives in Colorado. Desiring to go to Congress, he announces in a card to the public what he can do for his constituents: "I promise to have a switch put in at the county seat in fifteen minutes after my election; I pledge myself to produce rain whenever needed, thereby avoiding the necessity of irrigation; I will banish the grasshoppers from our land, and render the Eldorado of the West a Garden of Eden; I will work for nothing and board myself."

The Tammany Hall Convention of the Sixth District of New York unanimously nominated Hon. S. S. Cox for Congress. Mr. Cox was received with cheers. He addressed the meeting at length, dwelling upon the fact that he represented the working man, and was the leading opponent of the salary grab. He concluded as follows: "When I see returned such men as Holman and Kerr from Indiana, and a cohort of old friends from Ohio; when all the elements I have so long waited for are in motion for a change in administration and legislation, you will not wonder at my being anxious once more to join the little band which is now growing to be a potential force."

ALECK. STEPHENS ON A THIRD TERM.

AUGUSTA, Oct. 10.—A. H. Stephens addressed our citizens last evening. He spoke about two hours and a half. The passage of the civil right's bill would, he says, make great evil and destroy the public school system in the South. President Grant, he would do him the justice to say, had done his duty. He had no objection to third term per se. He saw no reason why a President who executed the laws faithfully should not be elected for a third term if the people desired it! He had looked into the Louisiana question and saw no sense in abusing President Grant about it. He spoke hopefully of the future of the Republic, and advised his hearers to obey the laws, suppress lawlessness, and be true to the constitution and Union as established by our fathers. He proclaimed himself a Jeffersonian Democrat, and had great faith in the triumph of those principles.

COMMENTS.

Mr. Alexander H. Stephens says that he has no objection to the third term per se and styles himself a Jeffersonian Democrat. Perhaps he has not read Jefferson.—N. Y. Herald.

Alexander H. Stephens has declared publicly that he sees no objection to a Third Term. It is not long since Mr. Stephens saw no insuperable objections to Secession. And then again he did. His principles are the little jokers of contemporary American politics.—Chicago Tribune.

In a speech at Augusta, the Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, proclaiming himself still a Jeffersonian Democrat, finds nothing objectionable in the Third Term project, but sees ruinous consequences in the Civil Rights bill. From the first of these propositions, at least, it is evident that Mr. Stephen's notion of a Jeffersonian Democrat does not involve holding the views of Thomas Jefferson.—N. Y. Tribune.

GEN. SHERMAN'S RELIGION.—Gen. Sherman is a bluff soldier, with a heart overflowing with good will to all living creatures. So far from the General using the grand ceremonial of the Catholic Church at his daughter's wedding to propitiate the Catholic or Irish vote, he would not during the celebration of high mass compromise himself by either bowing or kneeling, although Protestants, out of respect, did. Last winter, when Gen. Sherman made his famous speech, regretting that they never had dancing at his house, and said he liked to see the young people "scooting around," he told me that after his death there need be no dispute about his religious faith, for it could be given in a few words. Said he: "I believe that if people only act half as well as they know how, God will forgive the balance."—Wash. Corr. Louisville Courier-Journal.

LET THE THIEVES HAVE THEM.—A Washington dispatch of Oct. 17, says the police of that city have arrested a gang of book thieves who have been making extensive depredations on the committee rooms of the Capitol. 1,350 pounds of documents have been recovered. Most of them are valuable volumes and can not be replaced. The thieves systematically entered the rooms and carted away their plunder.

A GOOD WAY TO TAKE HIM.—"Colonel Martin, who occupied the chair, arose to make a motion, and Putnam slipped into Martin's seat. He refused to vacate, and Martin took him by the widest part of his pantaloons and landed him sprawling on the floor." This was a political meeting where Martin and Putnam were contending for the position of presiding officer. Location, Florida.

AN ITALIAN BRIGAND ARRESTED IN NEW YORK.—New York, October 24.—The police last night arrested a desperado named Angelo Antonelli, an Italian with a string of aliases, for murdering Count Giuseppe Avigliano and six other persons in 1867, at San Simeon, while he was the leader of a band of Italian banditti. He will be sent to Italy for punishment.

FREAK OF A CELEBRATED TROTTING HORSE.—Rochester, Oct. 9.—The celebrated trotter St. James bit a piece from the lip of his owner, Frank Van Ness, to-day. Frank was in the horse's stall eating an apple, when the horse snapped at him.

A grand "consolidated lecture troupe" will soon be organized in Salem for the winter campaign.

Judge Humason, of the Dalles, recently purchased a two-year-old colt from Mr. Stricklin, of Clackamas county, for $600.

Eight beautiful Angora goats, the property of John Hunter, were taken over to Col. Taylor's Clatsop farm last Monday, from Marion county.

The Methodist Church at Oregon City has been repaired and looks very neat. The Episcopal Church at the same place is now about completed, and also presents a handsome appearance.

All that region north of the California line, has been established by the Lighthouse Board at Washington, with Hon. W. D Hare nominating Superintendent, headquarters at Astoria.

James McCormick, a well-known teamster of Salem, had his right hand severely crushed day before yesterday while unloading his wagon. His hand got caught between the rack and the wheel, inflicting a very painful injury.

Rev. P. S. Knight will deliver the opening lecture of the winter course of the Eugene City Library Association, in that city, on Wednesday evening, the 4th of November. The subject selected for the lectures is the "Five Senses," and is one in his course of lectures on "Practical Psychology."

Governor Grover has appointed the following officers for the new county of Lake, in Southern Oregon, the county seat being located at Linkville: County Judge, Eli C. Mason; County Clerk, William Roberts; Treasurer, George Nurse; Sheriff, Thomas Mulhollender; Commissioners, Henry Fuller, A. F. Snelling; School Superintendent, Wm. R. Jones; Surveyor, Oliver Applegate.

A private letter from Butter Creek, Umatilla county, dated October 24th, says there has been a good deal of excitement about sheep in that section this summer, but it is about over. Stock sheep are held at $3 per head. Cattle are hardly worth collecting; calves sell at $4, and cows at $8 per head. So far the weather has been good, but little rain and no frost, but everybody is looking for a "cow killer" this winter.

Mrs. C. G. Glass has for some months been making earnest effort to secure, if possible, the pardon of her husband, Dr. C. G. Glass, of Portland, now serving out a sentence of five years' imprisonment in the State Penitentiary, for producing the death of Mary Hardman, of Linn county, by abortion. She has secured the names of eight out of the twelve jurymen that convicted him; together with the names of nearly one thousand other citizens of the State, among which we noticed a number of influential residents. Mrs. Glass has labored incessantly for many months in securing these names, and has shown a wifely devotion commendable in the extreme, and whether the petition now in the hands of the Governor be granted or not, she, at least, can console herself with the thought that she has done all in her power to secure Executive clemency.

On election day in Bismarck every saloon was closed, and good order and good nature prevailed on every hand.

The highest passes in Colorado are covered with four feet of snow, while those of Utah have but a few inches. It is beautiful.

Washington Territory goes into the list of grain shipping countries. Whatcom sent 100 tons of wheat to San Francisco this week by the bark Germania.

The Stock Report says: "It is now claimed that 'Gath,' who went out to Salt Lake to open out on Polygamy, was bought off by Brigham with an elegant gold watch."

Capt. Joseph Wright announces in the Helena papers the temporary suspension of the Avant Courier, promising to resume in improved form by the first of November.

Mr. Everett, of Fidalgo, had a large rock to roll upon him while prospecting for gold up Skagit river, which so badly crushed one of his legs that amputation may be at last necessary.

The Secretary of Montana, a Mr. Calloway, is charged by the press of the Territory with fraud in connection with the matter of counting the votes on the question of locating the capital.

The new little steamer Addie, to be used as a tug boat by the Renton Coal Mine Company between their landing on Black river and Seattle, on her trial trip, last Thursday, gave thorough satisfaction.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Olympia Railroad Union is called for next Monday at 10 o'clock A. M., for the election of officers, and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

Work in the Bellingham Bay coal mines has been suspended for about two weeks in consequence of an overflow from a spring in the lower gangway, and it is rumored that the suspension will continue until next spring.

The Echo says: Times are reported fearfully dull in Snohomish county. Large booms of logs are ready, but no sale, and fine crops of hay and vegetables, but no sale, and it is really difficult for white people to live on hay and vegetables.

A Salt Lake paper figures up 1,000 polygamists in Utah, with three wives and nine children apiece. If the reprobates are to be imprisoned and fined, as they should be, the cries of 3,000 women and 19,000 children will scare the Government officials out of the Territory.

A band of Spokane Indians were hanging around Olympia for some days last week. The clam-eaters of the Sound were quite disgusted with their grasshopper eating visitors, refusing to associate with them, and the disgust seemed to be mutual. The Spokanes left, saying they could get no muck-a-muck, absolutely refusing to eat either clams or oysters. Custom makes law, even among savages.

The Boise City Statesman of October 24th says: "This has been a remarkable year, for two crops of most kinds of vegetables would have matured. We had a nice mess of green beans this week and will have green peas in a day or two, the second crop, grown from the seed raised this year. Potatoes, beans, radishes, lettuce and several other kinds would have yielded the second crop. We might have the luxury of green corn, had it been planted late enough. In fact there has been no frost to kill vegetables since the 1st of April last, seven months."

ARREST FOR NON-COMPLIANCE WITH THE REVENUE LAWS.—New York, October 24.—M. Goldstein was arrested to-day by Deputy United States Marshal C. Downey, and taken before United States Commissioner Betts, when an application was made for a warrant for his removal to Oregon, where an indictment is pending against him for selling cigars without entering into the requisite bonds and procuring a collector's certificate. The matter will come before Judge Blatchford in the United States District Court this afternoon.

SUITS AGAINST SHOEMAKERS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—Boston, October 24.—Within a day or two suits have been brought against the small-shoe manufacturers in Cochituate and vicinity, for alleged violation of the Gallahue patent, and their establishments closed, throwing many workmen out of employment, and delaying the filling of orders. As fast as manufacturers obtain bail, they resume business.

COLORED OFFICERS INDICTED.—New Orleans, Oct. 17.—In Concordia parish, the grand jury, composed of two white men, the balance colored, found a true bill against D. Young, a colored member of the Legislature, for embezzling $30,000 belonging to the parish. They also found a true bill against Owen Steward, Sheriff, for obtaining property under false pretences.

MORGAN'S SONS.

SHIPMENTS TO BE CONTINUED BY THE STATE GRANGE INDEPENDENTLY.

The Executive Committee of the State Grange were in session yesterday, making an examination of the books of E. E. Morgan's Sons. One of the results of this investigation is contained in the following intimation from W. H. Baxter, Secretary of the State Grange:

"The Executive Committee of the State Grange have taken entire charge of the wheat and wool interest heretofore confided to E. E. Morgan's Sons, and intend to receive and sell or ship all consignments made to them by Patrons, on terms to be made known to the members of the Order at as early a date as possible.

"Steps are being taken to prevent individual losses to the members of the Order by the failure of said house; and the Executive Committee ask a suspension of judgment in this matter until after completing the examination of affairs, which is now being made. It is intended to have no interruption in the direct shipment of wheat. Freights, £3 or less."—S. F. Call, Oct. 25.

EIGHTEEN THOUSAND VOTERS DISFRANCHISED IN NEW ORLEANS.—New Orleans, October 24.—The registry closed throughout the State last evening. The Republicans are 10,000 behind in the city and 30,000 ahead in the State. Attorney General Field will publish to-morrow morning an official opinion against the legality of the naturalization papers issued by the Second District Court. This strikes off 18,000 from the poll list.

Resolutions strongly denouncing the action of the Attorney General have been unanimously adopted by the Democratic and Conservative Central Committee.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 30, 1874.

THE GOVERNOR'S DUTY.

We have heretofore spoken of the arbitrary and unjustifiable course pursued by Col. T. R. Cornelius in refusing to sign an important law passed by the late Legislature. We venture now to call the attention of the Governor to what appears to us to be his duty in the premises. And in order to do this it is necessary to examine into the object and effect of the signature of the President of the Senate to acts of the Legislature.

The Constitution of the State, Article IV Section 25 provides:

"A majority of all the members elected to each House shall be necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution; and all bills and joint resolutions so passed, shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective Houses."

There is no discretion allowed to the presiding officers. The bills passed shall be signed by them, at all events. Their signing is a merely ministerial act, which they have not the right to refuse to do under any circumstances. They express their views of bills in the same manner as other members of the Legislature, namely, by their votes when the roll is called on the passage of the Bills, and they have no legal right to withhold their signatures from measures that have received the constitutional majority in both houses.

What then is the object of having the signatures of the presiding officers attached to bills? Only as a convenient mode of authenticating them. When a bill is carried to the Governor bearing the signature of the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate, he must accept the signatures as evidence that the bill has duly passed both branches of the Legislature and must take jurisdiction, to borrow a phrase from the law courts. If he approve he must sign it; if not he must give his reasons for withholding his signature; and his action, unlike that of the presiding officers, is essential to the validity of the bill. He is to exercise his judgment as to the propriety or expediency of the measure, and to indicate his decision of that question by affixing or withholding his signature. His signature is to vitalize the bill, those of the presiding officers merely to authenticate it.

How are bills to be authenticated to the presiding officer? It can not be expected they will keep the proceedings of the bodies over which they preside so completely in their memories as to be able to act upon that evidence alone. The constitution furnishes the answer: the two houses are to keep a record of their proceedings. That record is the evidence upon which the presiding officers must rely; it is the evidence to which the courts resort when investigating the same subject matter.

This record is accessible to the Governor, and, though not quite so convenient, is certainly an authentication of as high order as the signature of the presiding officers would be. The Governor's duty then, it seems to us, is to take jurisdiction of the bill thus attempted to be killed by Col. Cornelius, and, if it is not in itself objectionable, sign it. We feel satisfied that were he to do so, the courts would apply the familiar rule by which all third persons are protected against the ill effects of neglect or refusal of ministerial officers of court to do their duty, and would hold the Law valid. This we believe to be the clear duty of the Governor; and as it can not possibly do any harm, he ought not to hesitate a moment.

The bill especially referred to, the act allowing a majority of the directors of railway companies to reside out of the State, is one of great importance to Oregon. It is well known that foreign capitalists are not afraid of American enterprises per se, but of the manipulations of the sharpers who control those enterprises. They have learned too dearly the danger there is in putting their money into railways of which American stockholders have the entire control. The lesson has been a severe one, and our railway bonds have done as much as any other by teaching it. Hence, they are chary of everything like American bonds, and particularly of whatever hails from Oregon. But let them see that they can control their own investment, and they will be much more ready to listen to propositions to invest in our securities. And there is no reason why foreigners should be excluded from being directors in American corporations. All the reasons that underlie the old doctrine of the disabilities of aliens have disappeared, as the arts of peace have grown up and the nations have entered into closer relations with each other; and the reasons for the doctrine also show this.

[illegible] SPEAK PLAINLY!

The [illegible] from Washington make frequent mention of late of the utterances of President Grant on the subject of a Third Term. This morning we have a story to the effect that the matter has been discussed in a Cabinet meeting, and another story to the effect that it was not discussed at a Cabinet meeting, but that the President did remark, as he has remarked on divers occasions before, that all this talk about a third term has been gotten up and carried on without any encouragement from him.

There is something due to the dignity of the President's position, in matters like this. He is not required to step forward and contradict or explain every idle rumor that may be set afloat concerning his personal or political intentions. On the contrary, he is expected, under ordinary circumstances, to allow such things to pass by unnoticed. But the circumstances of this case are not ordinary circumstances, but extraordinary, and the President has so far recognised that fact as to take occasion more than once to mention the subject, apparently for the express purpose of setting himself right before the country. The case is certainly one in which he might with propriety break silence, for it is one that not only involves future complications which the President and the party he represents can ill afford to encourage, but contributes not a little to the present unsettled condition of National politics.

But the President, though he talks much on the subject, says nothing. It would be no difficult task for him, since he feels it incumbent upon him to define his position, to define it so clearly as to render misunderstanding or misconstruction impossible. To declare that he has never said a word to encourage the idea of a candidacy on his part for a third term, is to avoid the real question. Certain it is that by some means the question of his being a candidate has become and is to-day the question that takes precedence of all others in the public mind when the subject of the Presidential election in 1876 is thought of, and it is wholly immaterial who first suggested it. Does President Grant contemplate becoming a candidate for re-election? is the question, and not, Has he authorized anybody to announce him as a candidate? It were easy for him if he does not seek re-election, to speak out unequivocally, while he is about it, and say in so many words he will not be a candidate, and thus end at once a discussion which ought to be ended. That would be the manly course, it would be more like Grant than the noncommittal givings out that he has thus far vouchsafed, and it would remove a feeling of anxiety and, almost, disappointment which has entered the minds of many who have all along insisted that the President was a frank, fair, unambitious man whose reputation had suffered from his surroundings but not from any want of purity and patriotism on his own part.

Last year was such a good year for independent candidates that Gen. Banks, the nominee of no Convention, was sent to the State Senate by a vote of more than two to one. This year he has been put forward for Congress against Daniel W. Gooch, Administration candidate and present member from the Sixth District. Gen. Banks is supported by the Democrats, the Labor Reformers and the Liberal Republicans—the Democrats having declined to make a nomination. He will also get considerable strength from the friends of Bailey, Gooch's contestant in the caucuses, and the supporters of several other influential Republicans. A special to the Chicago Tribune says Gooch is getting alarmed and has sent for Blaine and Dawes, who have gone to his relief. Prominent Republicans say there is no doubt of Banks' election.

A Washington dispatch of October 24th says that the removal of Federal officers in Texas was the result of a conference between President Grant, Secretary Bristow and Postmaster-General Jewell, at which conference the two latter insisted on the removal of all inefficient office-holders in the South, and the appointment of the very best men to be found in the Republican party in the Southern States. The President endorsed these views and commenced unloading in Texas. This dispatch ingeniously adds: "The opinion is frequently expressed that several Southern States have been lost to the Republican party on account of the bad appointments made to fill Federal vacancies in those States." To be sure; for what are the Governors of South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi but Federal officers?

A Montgomery (Ala.) dispatch of the 19th inst. tells how it is done in certain parts of the Province of Alabama. Says this dispatch: "Large numbers of men are summoned to appear before the United States Court in Huntsville, on the extreme northern border of the State, early in November. It is also reported to-day that from 500 to 800 warrants have been issued for the arrest of men in districts where no disorders have been reported. Many Deputy Marshals are being appointed on the recommendation of Charles E. Mayer, Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, although the State was never more quiet." This is a fair sample of hundreds of telegrams published since the beginning of present troubles in the South. Rare patriots, those Southern Republicans.

Rev. George S. Merriam, assistant editor of the Christian Union, says in the latest number of that paper: "Every conception of justice is outraged by the idea of an eternity of suffering as the award for the sins of this brief life. To say that sin is an infinite evil, and therefore merits infinite punishment, is a quibbling as paltry as the conclusion is dreadful. Whatever line of honest and earnest thought we follow, the mind returns to its first position: The first impulse of the heart is the last work of the intellect—the doctrine is a slander upon God!" Whither are we drifting? And where now is the old orthodox hell of literal fire?

A convention of persons interested in moving the National Capital from Washington to St. Louis was to have been held in Louisville, Kentucky, on the 20th inst. But Reavis, whose claim to historic renown rests solely on this scheme, delayed his coming, and the affair appears to have been a dismal failure. Most of the delegates present were from Kentucky. So the Capital will not be removed this year. When it does "go West," what shall be done with Boss Shepherd's pavements, sewers and excavations?

Thomas Carlyle said, a year ago, that the United States Government was going to the devil. We never believed him until we read that on the twenty-fourth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, Secretary Bristow tendered ex-Governor Pease, of Texas, who voted for Grosley in 1872, the office of Collector of the Port of Galveston. Bristow is trying to break up "the party."

The Episcopal Convention, recently in session in New York considered the following resolution, but no mention is made of its adoption:

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that the practice commonly described under the name of "Eucharistic Adoration," and the practice designated as "Sacramental Penance," together with all teachings leading to the above practices, are hereby solemnly declared to be foreign to this Church.

The police of New Orleans are about to strike for three months' pay now due them. The spirit of rebellion is not yet dead. So levy another tax and let Attorney General Williams suppress the back-pay grabbers for violation of the Enforcement Act.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says Jones of Nevada, is understood to own one hundred thousand dollars worth of stock in the Republic newspaper. It is hinted also, that he believes in a first term—for Jones, of Nevada.

The tax levy for 1874 in Louisiana amounts to 74 per cent., for State purposes alone. Will any one say that Kellogg's subjects have not been patient and long suffering.

Ohio returns fourteen Democratic and six Republican Congressmen. An off year, and not enough rag paper, you know.

TROTTING.—Boston, October 24.—Dan Mace's stallion, Jay Gould, to-day trotted against Goldsmith Maid's time. The first heat was made in 2:20¼, the second in 2:21¾. The horse was withdrawn at this point, owing to a scratch received in the second heat.

ANOTHER WITNESS.

LA GRANDE, Oct. 26.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I am glad to see a disposition to seek the right mode of spelling the name Wallamet, and to adopt a uniform one.

Douglas, who made collections of plants in Oregon at a very early day, uniformly reports all new plants from the Wallamet valley as from "Wahlamet." I cannot now give you the date, but it is interesting to note that in the same reports the Columbia is as uniformly called the "Oregon," or "the great Oregon river." Early records of the same kind give "Wahlla Wahlla," and "Wahlula." Surely this fixes the early use in the spelling of the name by the Hudson's Bay Co., and the Indian and not the French origin of the name Wallamet.

A YOUNG GIRL ACCIDENTLY KILLS HER MOTHER.—Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 13.—In Wyandotte, this morning, a young woman named Mack went into her mother's bed-room, where she was still sleeping. Seeing a gun by, with which boys had been hunting, she thought to awaken her mother by snapping a cap. The result was that she blew her mother's head off.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

HAVING BEEN IMPORTUNED by my friends to open a DANCING ACADEMY this winter in this city, and having secured the services of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Schwendell, said parties having had long experience in California, the Eastern States and Europe as musicians and teachers of dancing, therefore I take pleasure in announcing to all my friends and the public in general, that I will open a school of instruction in this delightful and healthy art on MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2d, at Emmet Guard Armory, cor. Front and Alder streets, in the city of Portland. Dancing taught by Joseph Schwendell, systematically, to enable the pupil to attend the most fashionable ball in the world. Lancers and Quadrilles, as danced universally, taught without the assistance of a Prompter. Also, Fancy or Round Dances, and character dances a specialty. Special attention paid to the latest San Francisco style of dancing. A rare opportunity is now offered to the young ladies and gentlemen and children to acquire the art of dancing systematically. Terms moderate.

For admission and particulars apply at Gray's Music Store.

Private lessons given at any time when desired. All are respectfully invited by MAN DROWNED.—About 3 o'clock [illegible] afternoon, an unknown man was [illegible] beside the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf, under [illegible] peculiar circumstances. The person who [illegible] first to discover the drowning man [illegible] who brought the intelligence to the [illegible] office gives the following particulars: He [illegible] that while standing on the wharf, he observed a man some distance away from [illegible] o'clock, nearly half way across the river. [illegible] he first noticed him, the man was struggling in the water, as if drowning. He was [illegible] on his side, but in a moment turned [illegible] on his back, and began to swim. The [illegible] on the dock sprang into a boat, and began [illegible] to row with all his might to the assistance [illegible] the person whose life was placed in peril. [illegible] reaching him, the man sunk, and was [illegible] sight from sight, and was seen no more. On [illegible] the place where he disappeared, a [illegible] pocketbook was discovered floating [illegible] the surface of the water. He picked it up, [illegible] brought it to the police headquarters. [illegible] from it, we learn that the name of the [illegible] man was Daniel Webster Brown. [illegible] appears to have been a shoemaker by trade, [illegible] a number of entries made in his memorandum book. In one place is the following, written in pencil: "Mr. L. Borland, I introduce to you, Webster Brown, Feb. 1873, your brother, C. W. Borland, Dayton, Ill." The man who attempted to rescue [illegible] states that he is positive that [illegible] wore a very pair of sandy whiskers, and had on [illegible] coat. As the whole affair transpired [illegible] a very few moments, and as the [illegible] noted that but little attention was paid to the personal appearance of the drowning man, [illegible] seems to have been the man struck by [illegible] boat, in the middle of the stream. [illegible] why the man should have taken it into [illegible] to swim out into the middle of the river, [illegible] to drown is an inexplicable mystery. [illegible] a late hour the body had not been recovered.

[illegible] McDONALD'S INDIAN [illegible] Rev. [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] we learn that Chief [illegible] McDonald, the originator of the [illegible] drill which the San Francisco [illegible] under his guidance attained [illegible] to such a pitch of perfection. [illegible] in practical operation in the [illegible] shown in his busy brain early [illegible] of educating a company of [illegible] drill. Recently he abandoned [illegible] plumbic, especially to detect [illegible] Indians for this purpose. After much [illegible], he succeeded in organizing a company [illegible] twelve young braves; but [illegible] visions of them concluded not to [illegible] he jumped from the steamer and [illegible] wailing squaws of his tribe. [illegible] selected his braves from the [illegible] tribes, one of them being a Modoc. [illegible] the Chinook jargon, and an intelligent [illegible] half-breed named McNeil acts as [illegible]. They are fine appearing fellows, [illegible] the captain has had them [illegible] in conventional dress. Last night they [illegible] a round of visits to the various places [illegible] amusement. Their quarters will be [illegible] spot on the San Bruno road, where [illegible] Donald will exercise them daily in the [illegible] of arms and all the difficult and [illegible] evolutions of his system. He expects [illegible] them perfect thereby in about six [illegible] will then, after giving an exhibition [illegible] their to Portland and Victoria, where [illegible] of exhibitions will be given, and [illegible] will probably be taken there. The [illegible] energy and determination of [illegible] Donald are assurances of the success [illegible] of his undertaking, which is [illegible] result, as it will establish the [illegible] even the despised Indian may be [illegible] here with the most favored races in the [illegible] addition of some kinds of knowledge.

STEAMER SALTS.—The steamer John L. [illegible], which sailed last evening for San Francisco, carried away the following passengers: H. F. Stone, Amy Stone, Archie Allen, R. Hibbard, J. Boris, O. Plankenhorn, [illegible] Bagnell, E. Ferguson, Mrs. Mortimer and two daughters, Miss L. B. Atkinson, Stockton; Mrs. Mrs. L. A. Lodyard, C. F. Hyde, Mrs. Miller and child, Mrs. Ward and child, Mrs. A. [illegible], John Dewpy, Mrs. J. E. Watkins, Mrs. Thomas Mountain, J. B. Watkins, Miss Estelle Coldridge, Miss Julia McGuire, A. Mallon and wife, C. A. Buckley, L. Young, Mrs. Belcher, D. Banks, D. Leonard, H. B. Thielsen, W. F. Watkins, W. [illegible] & Co's messenger and 25 in the steerage.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.—Two [illegible] were arrested yesterday morning for the larceny of [illegible] which from the person of Frank Lee, the well [illegible] known circus performer. The names of these [illegible] parties are Charles Baker and John Burbidge. [illegible] appears that Lee had been indulging freely [illegible] in drink on Wednesday night, and [illegible] fell asleep in a certain saloon, was put to bed in an [illegible] apartment to the rear of the bar-room. [illegible] Sometime during the night Baker and Burbidge entered the room and relieved Lee of his [illegible] watch. The barkeeper saw the men go back and forth [illegible] again, but knowing them to be friends of [illegible] the absence of Lee, thought nothing of the [illegible] matter. No one went into the room [illegible] missed that Lee's watch was missing. [illegible] Detective Officer McCoy of the affair

How or why the man should have taken the water to drown is an inexplicable matter [illegible] a late hour the body had not been re-

DAN. McKENZIE'S INDIAN BRAVES.—From the Alta we learn that Capt C. S. McDonald, the originator of the light [illegible] ball which the San Francisco cadets [illegible] under his guidance and instruction [illegible] such a pitch of perfection is about [illegible] in practical operation an idea which [illegible] in his busy brain some time ago—[illegible] organizing a company of Indians in his [illegible] drill. Recently he made a trip to Brit[illegible] especially to select representa[illegible] for this purpose. After much [illegible] he succeeded in organizing a company [illegible] young braves, but before leaving [illegible] some of them concluded not to come [illegible] from the steamer and returned [illegible] sisters of his tribe. The captain [illegible] his braves from the various north[illegible] one of them being a Modoc. All [illegible] the Chinook jargon, and an intelligent [illegible] half breed named McNeil acts as in[illegible]. They are fine appearing fellows, [illegible] captain has had them comfortably [illegible] in conventional dress. Last night they [illegible] a round of visits to the various places [illegible] amusement. Their quarters will be in a [illegible] spot on the San Bruno road where Capt [illegible] Donald will exercise them daily in the [illegible] manual of arms and all the difficult and brilliant evolutions of his system. He expects to [illegible] them perfect therein in about six months, [illegible] will then, after giving an exhibition here, [illegible] them to Portland and Victoria, where a [illegible] of exhibitions will be given, after which [illegible] will probably be taken East. The well [illegible] energy and determination of Captain [illegible] would are assurance of the complete success [illegible] of his undertaking, which is important in [illegible] result as it will establish the fact [illegible] with the most favored races in the [illegible] of some kinds of knowledge.

[illegible] Steamer.—The steamer John L [illegible] which sailed last evening for San [illegible] carried away the following passengers: [illegible] Stone, Amy Stone, Abner Allen [illegible] J Sorne O Plunkenden W H [illegible] Ferguson, Mrs Morrison and child, [illegible] Miss L E Atkinson Martin [illegible] L A Leonard C F Hyde Mrs [illegible] Mrs Ward and child, H A. [illegible] J. H. B Thielsen, W B Wilshire, W [illegible] ger and 25 in the steerage.

[illegible] FOR LARCENY.—Two men were ar[illegible] this morning for the larceny of a [illegible] from the person of Frank Lee the well [illegible] performer. The names of these [illegible] are Charles Baker and John Burkely. [illegible] that Lee had been indulging freely [illegible] on Wednesday night, and falling [illegible] in a certain saloon, was put to bed in an [illegible] to the rear of the bar room. Some [illegible] the night Baker and Burkely entered the [illegible], and relieved Lee of his watch [illegible] saw the men go back and come [illegible], but knowing them to be friends and [illegible] of Lee thought nothing of the [illegible]. Soon went into the room and no [illegible] Lee's watch was missing. He in[illegible] Officer McCoy of the affair who fol[illegible] and Burkely around and arrested them. On taking them to the city jail the watch was found in Burkly's possession. Both parties are now in jail, on default of $600 bonds. The watch is a silver one valued at $25.

NEARLY A DROWNER.—A gentleman informs us that during the last voyage of the Oriflamme to this port, a slight collision occurred with a sailing vessel heavily loaded with lumber. It was about 2 o'clock in the morning and very foggy at the time. The steamer was traveling along at the rate of about 12 knots per hour. Each vessel rapidly approached the other, and the one on board seemed to be aware of the fact. When within about 30 or 40 yards of each other, the watch man on board the lumber vessel perceived for the first time, the great peril that threatened and shouted aloud and then sprang into the sea. The course of the Oriflamme was instantly changed but not sufficient to avoid a collision. But little damage was done to either vessel, only a small portion of the wood work of the sailing vessel being carried away. As soon as the vessels cleared, a boat was lowered and the watchman rescued from a watery grave.

[illegible] OFFICERS.—The Record says: "In accordance with an act passed by the recent Legislature, Governor Grover this morning appointed the following persons to act as the commissioners of Emigration. As we understand it these persons are more directly [illegible] in encouraging and disseminating information to people desiring to come hither from foreign countries. All of the persons named are well known citizens of this city with the exception of Mr C Lee [illegible] who resides at Astoria. The well known character of the gentlemen selected is a guarantee that they will energetically carry out the objects for which they have been appointed. The Board consists of Messrs Wm Goldsmith, H W Corbett, Wm [illegible] and Mr Weber.

[illegible] STATISTICS.—The following is the report of the Sunday school at Taylor-street M E Sunday school for the month just past. Sunday, Oct. 4th (Concert Sunday) No present 150. A PRISONER.—Sheriff Curtis, of Union county arrived here last evening from Fort 61 the Mountains having in custody a prisoner en route to the Penitentiary who was sentenced at the late term of the Circuit Court of that county. The name of the prisoner is Jones. He is under sentence for the term of [illegible] breaking into a house. Other particulars in relation to the prisoner will appear [illegible] for talent this morning.

A FACT WORTH MENTIONING.—Mrs Ross of Salem when leaving the street car yesterday, dropped her purse on the seat and did not miss it until she got to the office of the Railroad where she went to purchase a ticket. She made it known to a gentleman friend from the same city. He went immediately to the office of the Clarendon Hotel. The polite clerk went immediately to the Superintendent's office and there found the purse deposited with him by the honest driver. The clerk by a great effort was able to put the purse and its contents ($20) into the hands of the lady just as the express train was about to start. The conduct of the clerk, the Superintendent and the driver is worthy of a place in our columns as an example to be followed. They have the gratitude of the lady who could ill afford to lose what their integrity secured for her.

FEASTS OF THE MONTH.—The following are the feasts of November, which will be observed by the Catholic Church. November 1st Feast of all Saints. This feast was established by Pope Boniface IV., in the year 610, the occasion being the appropriation of the Pantheon at Rome for Christian worship in that city. The festival was extended to the whole Church by Pope Gregory IV., in 840 and the date of its observance was definitely settled by this Pontiff November 2d All Souls Day. November 24th Feast of Presentation.

EXEMPTS.—The Association of Exempt Firemen met at the Police Court room last evening, a large quorum being present. The usual order of business was gone through, a few bills ordered paid, and an adjournment had. The objects of this Association are worthy of much more attention than is bestowed upon it by the exempt members of the Department, and we hope to see a larger attendance hereafter at its meetings.

OREGON PRESBYTERY.—The next regular session of the Oregon Presbytery will convene at Corvallis on November 5th. Rev J R Thompson of Olympia is the Moderator.

COLLISION.

A SERIOUS COLLISION BETWEEN THE STEAMERS WILLAMETTE CHIEF AND JOSIE M'NEAR, AT ST JOHNS.

Quite a serious collision occurred yesterday morning down the river opposite St Johns between the steamers Josie McNear and Willamette Chief. About 6 o'clock A M. the McNear [illegible] away from the O S N Co's wharf, and passed down the river. At that time a very dense cloud of fog hung over the river. It was so heavy that objects could be discovered only a few rods from the boat, which was compelled to travel under a slow bell as a precautionary measure. The Willamette Chief left her wharf at the foot of Alder street about 7 o'clock in the morning, for Astoria, having been delayed some time in consequence of the fog. The McNear had on board about 70 passengers. She traveled so slow and cautiously that the Chief had almost overtaken her by the time St Johns was reached notwithstanding she had nearly an hours start. There were several persons on board the McNear who desired to be put ashore at St John. However the fog was so dense that Capt Randall passed the wharf at St Johns before he was aware of it. On discovering this fact he immediately gave the signal to reverse the wheel. The steamer had passed the wharf about 200 yards. First as the McNear had stopped and was swinging her stern around so as to return to the wharf, the Chief, was dimly discovered in the fog bearing down upon her under a full head of steam. Three men who were standing near the bow of the McNear perceiving the danger began to shout at the top of their voices, and warn the approaching boat. Capt Randall who observed to his dismay that a collision was inevitable, also gave repeated signals, and began to back his boat as rapidly as possible. The captain of the Chief reversed the wheel the instant on discovering the danger, but it was of no avail. The Chief was traveling under a full head of steam, and the McNear was almost stationary when the situation of both boats was discovered. It was simply impossible to stop the one, or get the other beyond the reach of a collision. Not more than 20 or 30 yards separated the steamers when each discovered the other. Before anything could be done the crafts struck with a loud crash a shock which made every timber quake, and sent the passengers headlong from their feet. Fortunately for all concerned the boats did not collide squarely, but rather grazed each other—the bow of the Chief striking the guards of the McNear near the forward portion of the craft. A large hole nearly six feet square, extending from near the water line, up to the guards about eight feet from the bow was stove in. The Chief. Her guards were also considerably damaged by the collision. Had it not been that there was a bulk head in the forward part of the boat the Chief would have gone straight to the bottom of the river. As it was only a small portion of the hull filled with water. Immediately after the accident the Captain of the Chief finding his boat badly damaged concluded that it would be hazardous to continue on, turned about and started to return to the city. But he found that impossible, as he could not control the boat she refusing to obey the rudder on account of being partially filled with water. He therefore ran ashore a short distance above the scene of the accident.

The damage sustained by the McNear was quite severe, but such as not to prevent her from going down the river. After the collision the McNear hauled alongside the wharf where she had a few temporary repairs made and then proceeded on to her destination.

Several carpenters went down the river yesterday and commenced to repair the Chief where she now lies beached. Doubtless she will be up to-day.

As usual, there are two stories about the accident, each Captain and crew having a different version of the affair. We have given the facts in the case as related to us by several persons who profess to have no interest either way. We submit them without note or comment. It was certainly a very narrow escape. Had the boats struck squarely the fate of both as also the passengers on board would have been sealed. The shock would have been sufficient to almost cut them in twain.

AMUSEMENTS.

According to arrangements effected by Manageress Phelps Mr J H Leroy, Frank Rea and wife and several other actors will sail from San Francisco to morrow morning on the Ajax for Portland. Arriving here early next week a new theatrical season will be commenced about Friday.

Carl Bosco whose clever feats in the magical art have so often filled the mind of this public with surprise wonderment and pleasure, will give one of his entertainments this evening at Oro Fino Theater. He proposes in the course of the evening to give the celebrated Shadow Pantomime which has never been presented to a Portland audience. A number of clever tricks will be performed. Mr Bosco proposes to distribute all his apparatus through the audience for their examination and at the conclusion of each trick expose it and show how the same is done. The entertainment promises much which will interest and amuse the audience.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Splendid fall weather.

Next Thursday evening Mr S J McCormick will deliver one of his popular Irish lectures at Gervais.

The Standard office has been removed to 19 First street next to Central Market. Office at McCormick's Book Store.

J K Gill & Co received per bark Oregonian yesterday a lot of over 7000 school slates, and 500 gross of chalk crayons. The demand for this class of goods shows that a large proportion of our children attend school and gives promise of a bright career for the future of our State.

JOHNSON & QUINN, Merchant Tailors—Beg to announce to the citizens of Portland and vicinity, that they have opened a Merchant Tailoring establishment on Stark street between First and Second and are now ready to take orders for first-class fitting garments made in the very latest styles. Our stock of goods consists of English, Scotch, French and Domestic Manufactures. Also Oregonian suits made up at lower prices than any other house in the city. Respectfully,

JOHNSON & QUINN.

Gentlemen that have been so well suited with any clothing while at Fishel & Roberts will find no trouble in finding a place of business on Stark street between First and Second.

Very respectfully, C. A. JOHNSON.

Why will you smoke an inferior cigar when you can get such splendid Havanas

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

RELIGIOUS LOCAL PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

[From the P C Advocate.]

Bishop Merrill has returned in good health from his official visit to the conferences on the Pacific Coast.

Rev J G Downing, of California, has accepted an invitation to supply the Presbyterian pulpit in Corvallis for the ensuing year.

At the recent session of the Ohio Conference Rev W P Hughey, formerly a member of that conference, was re admitted from the Presbyterian Church.

A list of the appointments recently made at the Central New York Annual Conference reveals the fact that Rev Geo W Izer, formerly of this city is now stationed at Hedding Church Elmira, New York.

The Taylor street M P Sunday School will devote next Sabbath afternoon to the interesting exercises of the Monthly Missionary Concert. We learn that the Committee of Arrangements has made out for the occasion an excellent programme, consisting of music recitations speeches, and addresses, all of which, it may be expected will prove highly interesting and instructive.

Through the laborious and indefatigable exertions of Mrs J G Gaston of this city a very neat and well finished church edifice was completed a few months ago in the village of Gaston Washington county. Already regular sessions are held therein on Sabbath and a Sabbath School organized for the benefit of children and youth. We understand that soon the church will be formally dedicated ministers of different denominations being invited to take part in the services.

[From the Sentinel.]

The St Vincent de Paul Society will meet on Sunday next at 4 o'clock.

Mass will be celebrated in Oregon City on Sunday and Monday next—the feasts of All Saints and All Souls.

A Fair for the benefit of the orphans will be held at Vancouver next week, under the auspices of the Sisters of Charity.

A Fair was recently held on Cowlitz Prairie, Washington Territory, for the completion of a new church. The net proceeds amounted to $300.

The St Joseph's German Catholic Society meets next Sunday at 3 o'clock P M. Every member is requested to attend, as at the general quarterly meeting important business will be transacted.

PORTLAND BAR ASSOCIATION.

Pursuant to a published call signed by a large number of the members of the Portland Bar a meeting was held last evening at the County Court rooms.

As set forth in the call the object of the meeting was to take steps toward the organization of a Portland Bar Association.

About twenty members of the bar were present.

On motion of Mr J C Moreland, H Y Thompson was chosen temporary Chairman.

On motion of Mr R Stott, Joseph Simon was chosen Secretary pro tem.

Mr Thompson on assuming the chair, remarked that it was needless for him to state the object of the meeting as it was generally well understood among those present. He then proceeded to read the call.

After some discussion as to the best mode of procedure in effecting an organization, Mr Dolph moved that a committee of five be appointed, who should report at an adjourned meeting a plan for the organization of the Association proposed.

The motion prevailed, and the Chair appointed the following gentlemen to act as such committee. Hon Jos N Dolph, J W Whalley, T V Shoup, C B Bellinger and E Kullen, Esqrs.

After some more discussion it was moved and carried that the meeting adjourn subject to the call of the President.

THE COURTS.

U S DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.

THURSDAY, Oct 29, 1874.

Grand jury returned a true bill.

United States vs John Poul, disposing of liquor to an Indian, defendant brought into Court arraigned and plea of guilty entered.

CIRCUIT COURT—SHATTUCK J.

State vs A M Snyder, motion to quash indictment overruled.

Patrick Lorrester vs Geo Collier Robbins, order of default entered and appointment of guardian ad litem for minor defendant.

City of Portland vs J H Lappeus, judgment on demurrer costs taxed against plaintiff.

Theodore Rolfe vs E F Russell et al, argued and submitted.

School District No 1 vs R J Ladd et al, order correcting former entry of order of reference.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Mr L C Henrichsen in order to make room for a new fall stock advertises all his present stock at reduced rates. See card.

A working model of an ancient Holland wind mill, with automaton attachments—ingenious and laughable—at the Museum.

That universal tobacco, the best brands of Havana and domestic cigars meerschaum pipes tubes etc are the articles Bachman next to Walter Bros can supply you with.

The Wheeler and Wilson Sewing Machine is still ahead on the Pacific coast as elsewhere having this year taken the first premium at the Oregon State Fair Washington County Fair and California State and County Fairs.

The fall season has fairly set in and with it our merchants are opening their new stocks in large quantities. Among those who have prepared for the rush we find those well known clothiers Buck & Waldman who are not behind any in their selections of fall and winter goods. They have studied the pre ent wants of customers and accordingly have purchased at the lowest figure with the object of affording their patrons the greatest advantages. Boys clothing is a specialty with this house and parents should note the fact.

NEW ATTRACTIONS.—Very few are acquainted with the fact that JOS KOHN opposite the First National Bank has just opened a magnificent assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods. None can but admire the handsome Diagonals the beautiful Leaster suits the attractive Cassimeres and other goods now on hand at his large and elegant store. He as well as his clerks are accommodating and will satisfy the taste of all who may chance to call. Mr Kohn can please you that is morally certain. Now is the time to purchase a full suit.

Don't pay high prices for Hats while they can be obtained at a reasonable figure. Among the latest additions to the stock of JOHN O'NEIL & Co Clothiers is a complete line of Hats for the fall and winter season. They propose to sell them cheaper than the same have been offered heretofore in this city. When you need a new tile bear this in mind. The high scale of prices are played out and O'NEIL & Co can prove it. They are opening some new styles in Hats and Clothing. Make a note of it before it is too late.

TO THE LADIES.

Miss Perry Ironmaker begs leave to announce to the ladies that she has returned to the city and will be pleased to have them call on Thursday Oct 15th (opening day) at her room No 11 Dekum's Building, over Clark & Henderson's.

TO THE LADIES OF PORTLAND.

MRS W N WALLACE will open a first class DRESSMAKING ESTABLISHMENT Oct 1st in one of the new and Elegant Rooms on Stark Street between First and Second at which place she would respectfully solicit your patronage.

The Dictates of Common Sense.

Persons who in most things are prompt to obey the dictates of common sense too often neglect them when they point to the necessity of promptly revitalizing the depleted body and the wearied mind. And yet how foolish and dangerous it is to neglect such monition. Disease follows closely on the track of weakness and exhaustion. Arrest its silent but rapid stride by prompt invigoration. The most reliable agent that can be solicited for this purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a palatable Hygeian elixir which possesses the true requisites for toning regulating and tranquilizing both body and mind, and which is besides the chosen remedy of the American people for relieving weakness or disorders of the stomach liver and bowels as well as the numerous army of complaints which ultimately follow derangements of these organs.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH A SEVERE COUGH Hoarseness or Sore Throat you may save the expense of a doctor's bill by using at once Dr Ingalls' Expectorant. A neglected cold often terminates through much suffering in Consumption. A slight inflammation of the lining of the windpipes, the usual symptoms of which are a Sore Throat or a Pain in the Breast will if not promptly attended to frequently lead to Bronchitis. Even as a matter of economy it may be well for those afflicted with Coughs Colds Hoarseness or Sore Throat to remember that Dr Ingalls' Expectorant is the cheapest standard remedy—the Extract is necessary. Delicacy and escape increased trouble.

OREGON CITY.

Our regular correspondent sends the following:

Farmers are beginning to ask for rain, so that they may commence winter plowing. The ground is unusually dry for this season of the year.

On last Saturday, Sheriff Apperson arrested Wm H Franklin who stands indicted in this county of the crime of rape. It appears that Franklin was indicted at the last term of the Circuit Court but knowing that certain parties had been subpœned as witnesses before the grand jury he naturally supposed that they were investigating his case, and slooped before the Sheriff received the warrant for his arrest. After Court adjourned he returned home supposing no indictment had been found. As soon as he returned to the county the Sheriff who had been watching his man arrested him. Franklin was very much surprised when he was arrested, and at first manifested some inclination not to accompany the Sheriff to town but the persuasions of that officer were so forcible that he concluded discretion was the better part of valor and meekly submitted. On Monday he was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000. Sheriff Apperson deserves considerable credit for the manner in which he managed to secure Franklin.

The last grand jury condemned the county jail in such an emphatic manner that the County Court ordered it repaired. All of the interior portion has been torn away until nothing was left except the bare walls and the roof. Then a new window was made on the east side and an iron grate placed therein thus affording more light and better ventilation. The interior was then fitted up anew. Timbers four inches thick were bolted to the brick walls all around the interior of the building. Upon these sheet iron was placed all around from floor to ceiling, then upright timbers two inches thick, were spiked over the iron. Lastly, this was ceiled throughout with inch ceiling. The old floor was also renewed and a stone floor laid in cement was made, and over this a heavy wooden floor was placed. Other improvements will also be made thus rendering our jail as secure, and at the same time as comfortable as any in the State.

GRAND EXPOSITION

OF

At the Store of

BRADLEY, MARSH & CO.,

Extensive Shipments to Arrive

EX "JOHN L. STEPHENS" AND "AJAX."

THE FOLLOWING LETTER, FROM MR MARSH who is now purchasing in the San Francisco market will explain itself:

GRAND HOTEL, 7th October 1874.

DEAR BRADLEY—Arrived safely, having had fair average passage. Set at once to work. First called on —— Paid them $2,000 on account. Got 5 per cent discount on $1 150 not yet due. Mr —— seemed well pleased said they had heard rather unfavorable accounts of us from Portland merchants going ahead too fast selling goods too low ruined the trade etc. Explained the evident animus of such statements. Wanted to call round on the other houses before buying, but Mr —— would not let me stir—so started in and bought a splendid lot of stuff at really extraordinary low prices. Cleared out 63 pieces of English waterproof and indigo cloth at 9c—regular price $1 20. These we must sell at $1 per yard and beat the wholesale houses they can't touch them at that figure. There is a temporary decline in cotton goods so secured 16 cases leading brands muslins and sheetings. Selling these as usual at cost will give us a splendid advantage over all the other stores. Got a fine lot Bed spreads 20 per cent. under regular price. In Blankets I made a special hit. The house had 1 sales on consignment and being agents for the —— mills did not wish to exhibit them for competition mills did not wish to exhibit them in competition. Bought the lot. You may think this rather stiff but when you see the splendid quality of these goods you will at once concede this a magnificent purchase. Mark them Lot and make a noise. Do not let the country storekeepers gobble all those up as they did the last cheap lot keep them for our regular customers. Got two job lines in Dress Goods to sell at 25c & 37½c per yard—30 per cent less than cost of importing. Secured two original cases of the Buffalo brand 8/4 warp Alpacas at agents rates. These range in price from 25c to $1. The time is past with us for buying a piece or two. Cleared out several job lines in Flannels. Table Linen, Napkins, Towels etc, all very low. Also several other goods that can best be purchased at this house. Dined and wined with Mr —— Splendid house magnificently furnished. Met ——

Tuesday—Called early on —— Paid our account in full. Same story as to reports. The fact is the —— evidently went for us in very blackness of heart but our name is a tower of strength that the shot of accident nor dart of chance can neither graze nor pierce. The robbed that smiles steals something from the thief and we can well smile at these attempts to jostle a brother bearing his road on the rough road of life. The heavy cash remittances we make regularly stun them all here. They say the Portland men are generally long winded. Our getting the Granger trade is also a surprise to many. Purchased a fine lot of Shawls, Hosiery, Men's Shirts, Pants, Ladies Merino Vests, Woolen Jackets, Trimmings and all fancy goods at this house. They were most anxious to sell and as they made considerable reductions in prices I bought largely. Send you invoices overland. Goods go by John L Stephens. The shipment from England will arrive by next Panama steamer. The Clothing, Hats etc from New York come by rail. When all these are opened out our stock will be the finest on the coast. Will back us up to any extent. He knows we possess the powers ordained to last. His business has doubled this year. This is truly a Golden State with its golden mines, golden grain and the golden wealth of living manhood and womanhood pouring in at the rate of three hundred daily from all parts of the civilized and uncivilized world. Would that we had railroads to enable us to share this prosperity. S. L. MARSH.

JAPANESE FANATICISM

THE MURDERER OF THE GERMAN CONSUL AT HAKODADI CONFESSES HIS CRIME.

[Hakodadi Japan Aug 22 Corr of the New York Herald.]

I transmit herewith a full account given by the murderer of Mr. L. Haber, German Consul at this port to the police at the time he delivered himself up to the authorities. Mr Haber will suppose you are aware was cut down by a Japanese of the samurai class, and literally chopped to pieces receiving twenty-five separate wounds. The assassin was neither drunk nor crazy, but committed the deed solely on account of his hatred of foreigners. The following translation may serve to show the feelings of these samurai, who were retainers of the former Princes and have been thrown out of employment and power by the introduction of the foreign element into the Empire.

THE MURDERER'S STATEMENT.

I, the undersigned, Minamoto-no-Asson Tazaki Hedechika, most respectfully and humbly beg to lay a statement before the gods mentioned below, though I feel it to be a fearful duty to express my thoughts upon this occasion.

First Kok-tai-dai ku two temples at Eshino-kuni kasuma, Katori Ikusutadzu three temples at Kanto Dundzu kits-ki no-muya principal temple at Izumo Daidzu, at the temple of my native country, Akita ken, and my household god and also Ten dzin chike yao yaro zuno kami.

Having learned a few volumes of Japanese history this very insufficiently through an education which I received through the favor of the Government of Satsuki Shiro prefecture, in my native country of Akita ken and a few others, it came to my knowledge that all things in this world are by the favor of the gods that the successor of his Majesty the Tenno reigns and governs at his throne the country of Japan very successfully, and the distinction of people as to their masters and servants is made and the course of conduct by which the people must be ruled and provided.

On the evening of the day before yesterday, one [illegible] (or the Emperor) who first laid the foundation of the Empire and settled at Toma to me zuni as the Capital, A [illegible] to me in a dream and spoke as follows: "That the foreigners residing in this [illegible] (Hakodadi) are going to take into consideration and discussion upon the subject of the overthrow of the Tenno (Emperor) of our country, therefore kill the thieves (both foreigners and Japanese who join with them in the conspiracy) immediately, before they have the opportunity to do so."

I respectfully desire to accept the gods valuable command, which has filled my heart with joy [illegible] Whatever perform. If in searching for the robbers, I come upon them let me have good advice promptly and punish them thus carrying out the wishes of the gods by which our country may be distinguished from the rest of the world as an enlightened nation. If in coming upon them I fail to execute the commands of the gods I hope that they will send down a great sickness upon me, and in leaving this world I hereby testify, speaking with truth and trust, that the gods may be an assistance and protection to me.

MINAMOTO-NO ASSON TAZAKI HEDECHIKA.

Several men-of-war have arrived in port and foreigners do not apprehend any further trouble, though at one time it looked much as if there was a conspiracy to murder foreigners. The Japanese officials are pushing their inquiries to the utmost and deserve great credit for the manner in which they have conducted the investigation.

THE ARKANSAS CARPET BAGGER

McClure came to Washington with his blue eyes full of blood. The opinion of the Attorney General had struck him in the region of the diaphragm and to say he was mad would be to draw it very mild. He went up to the Department of Justice and demanded to see Williams. That functionary received him.

"I am Chief Justice McClure, of Arkansas," he began, "and I have read your opinion on the case recently decided by the President. You, sir, I wish to say that the papers on which you based your opinion and which you refer to as having been certified to you by the Clerk of my Court are either forged or garbled."

What do you say, sir?" asked the astounded Attorney General. He had been accustomed to the [illegible] of the lucky on the part of the traditional carpet bagger, but here was one playing the bully. It was incomprehensible to the Attorney General.

"I say, sir," replied the [illegible] turbable McClure, "that I believe those papers are either forged or that new matter has been interpolated in them and I say further, sir, that the reputation of your Department and the known character of yourself incline me to the belief that these frauds have been enacted in your office and by your instigation and connivance.

What do you mean sir?" gasped the breathless Williams.

"I mean just what I say," replied McClure still as cool as a refrigerator "and I want to see the originals of those papers which you claim have been certified to you by the clerk of my court."

"I have sent them to the Senate, sir," said Williams.

"You talk like a man who is lying," said McClure. "In fact, sir I believe you are lying. Not to put too fine a point upon it you are a d—d liar sir. Original papers are never sent to the Senate or House except by special demand for them. The resolution of the Senate in regard to these papers called for copies and copies were sent. You do not wish me to see the originals, sir, for fear that I will detect the interpolations that have been perpetrated in your office. I believe you have been bought up in this matter, sir."

At this, Williams turned and left the room. His chief clerk then came up to McClure and said: "I [illegible] your remarks as a personal insult to myself."

"Go to h—l!" said McClure. "You don't know the difference between an insult and an apology. There is not a man in this department capable of [illegible] anything. Don't talk to me at all, sir."

Then Poker Jack stroked his long beard, walked up and down the room a few minutes, and then took his leave. Well, that is the sort of carpet-[illegible] the Arkansas people have to deal with. Men who know neither scruple, compunction nor fear. They mean to revolutionize the State over again. They are proceeding about it in a very systematic way. And they will make a deal of trouble before they are disposed of.—Chattanooga Cor St Louis Republican

BOB SCHENCK ON POKER.—General Schenck was the guest of an English lady, the owner of Horace Walpole's famous residence, Strawberry Hill and the American Minister was questioned by the hostess about our national game of cards. General Schenck undertook the pleasing task of instructing the noble dame in the mysteries of the game of poker and when he left Strawberry Hill she requested him to send her writing the rules governing the game. This our obliging Minister did briefly and clearly as he could on his return to London and mailed the treatise to his fascinating enter ainer. Much to his surprise and no little annoyance, there appeared shortly after, for private circulation, a beautifully gotten up book of fourteen pages, called A Treatise on the Game of Poker.

A PERILOUS VENTURE.—A man named Paul Boynton who has unlimited faith in the buoyant qualities of Merriman's life-preserver sailed from New York on the 10th instant aboard the steamer Queen with the intention of abandoning the vessel for the ocean clad in the life-saving dress, 300 miles from Sandy Hook. It is expected that he will be picked up by some homeward-bound vessel. The suit envelopes all but the face of the wearer, and is capable of sustaining a weight of 300 pounds. He will carry in a waterproof bag a sufficiency of provisions and water to last ten days. This will strike many as a fool hardy venture but there will be a universal hope that Boynton may be taken up after thoroughly testing the merits of the life preserver, for all that.

WELL SAID.—The Milwaukee Evening Times says of the recent elections:

The transition period in the politics of this country is about drawing to a close and a new era will soon be ushered in which will record a mighty growth and advancement for our free democratic institutions. The lesson [of the late elections] is apparent to the most obtuse intellect. It spells the word Independence, and it will blaze in the eyes of all true citizens, credit-Mobilier plunderers and Southern oppressors more potently than the Scriptural handwriting on the wall."

The money market so far as local transactions are concerned can be described in few words. What was true of it last week, silvery nearly true now the demand being larger and a consequently rather closer condition of affairs and a growing tendency toward stiffer rates by outside parties while the banks accommodate their regular customers on the usual terms, though exercising a conservative policy and scrutinizing the paper offering either as collateral or for discount. Promptness is more strictly required this season than ever before, and its results are seen in the healthy condition generally in financial circles notwithstanding the heavy demands made upon the circulating capital of the State during the last two months.

Foreign Breadstuffs Markets.

In the United Kingdom the consumption during the eight weeks from August 7th to Sept 26th, inclusive is placed at 9,334,000 qrs, against 3,388,336 qrs supply from imports and home deliveries indicating an approximate surplus in eight weeks of about 4,338 qrs or 34,704 bush.

Beerbohm's London cable of Oct 14 1874 reports the farmers deliveries of home grown wheat in the 150 towns in England and Wales for the week ended Oct 10 1874 at 60,000 to 65,000 qrs. (and estimated in the Kingdom at 240,000 to 260,000 qrs).

In France, during the last week in September, the lifting of potatoes and beet roots with favorable weather was continued. The harvest of buckwheat in the Dr—ne district was nearly completed and the crop was expected to be a good one. The provincial markets had been fairly supplied with wheat [illegible] ially of seed qualities. Millers with low stocks were slow purchasers. The general apathy in the trade was becoming more and more marked and the weakness of the wheat market all over the North of Europe checked all speculative operations. The weather had been favorable for the fall sowing of grain the supplies in the provincial markets had been liberal of wh[illegible] but the sellers had to make concessions to effect sales.

From the 16th to the 23d September 21 cargoes of wheat passed the Dardanelles including 8 for Marseilles, 1 for Dunkirk, 4 for the United Kingdom 2 for Cenoa 2 for Barcelona 1 for Leghorn, 4 for Malta and 1 not a cargo of Maize.

The consumption of wheat in France for the food of its inhabitants was estimated at 70,391,410 hectolitres and for seed food for animals, manufactures and other purposes 14,084,250 hectolitres. There has been some increase in the population with a probable increased consumption.

There were from the 2d to the 15th of September 12 cargoes of wheat passed the Dardanelles from the Black and Azov Sea ports comprising six for Marseilles one for the United Kingdom two for Malta, one for Gibraltar one for Antwerp and one for Genoa. There was also during the same time one cargo of maize only bound for the United Kingdom.

Advices from Australia, under date of August 13th report that the weather had been favorable for the young crops which were looking well. The exports of the old crop for the 31 weeks ending August 1st 1874 including those from Port Adelaide and the outports comprised 163,571½ qrs of wheat 39,485 tons of flour—equal to 645 bush of wheat per ton of flour—177 qrs of barley 12,114½ bran and pollard and 1,4 qrs of oats. The export inquiry was small.

At Galatz Roumania on the 23d ult., there had been a limited business for export the prices demanded by sellers preventing sales for export. Shipping Gherka wheat were 38s. per imperial quarter f o b. Rye was 26s 6d per imperial qr. Of Maize there was so limited a stock as to prevent business. It was held at 3.. per qr f o b.

At Amsterdam, Holland on the 12th ult. there was a very limited demand for wheat. Rye was in good request at firm and advancing prices. There was an improved inquiry for rye from the Rhine districts the inferior quality of rye being sought after for feeding purposes but for forward delivery the price was unaltered.

At Hamburg on the 26th ult there was an improved demand for grain with a readiness on the part of sellers to meet buyers. There was a milling and export demand for wheat with American in good demand for home use. The stock of wheat had been much reduced. From the interior of Germany, wheat was being forwarded to Belgium and the Rhine in consequence of which supplies of wheat at Hamburg were scanty. Rye having been largely purchased for inland consumption in Germany prices were on the turn in sellers favor. Russian rye was selling at 32s 6d@33s per 480 lbs f o b.
